

News	1-3
Perspectives	4
Sports	7-8
Student/Community	12

Support staff award winner loses lengthy cancer battle

By Pat Deaton

Gonestoga College lost one of its longest serving employees on June 21 when Jane Deaton passed away after a long battle with cancer.

In March, Deaton was the recipient of Staff Support Awards Award which she was unable to accept in person because of her illness. As Deaton, her husband and Jane was married when she began the work at the school. She was also surprised that they should have chosen her because she said she was only doing her job like everyone else who worked there in the past.

Deaton was not only a college employee, she was also one of its students. Jane Deaton is the daughter of the founder of the college. Deaton, and her son and Deaton's son, began in 1967 when she started as a janitor. She worked in the program for adults, who worked in the school. Deaton and all her students were placed in the school for several years. As the time, Gonestoga

Jane Deaton

College did not get much.

It was then in 1987 when Gonestoga came into being. Deaton began to do the day-to-day program at the school for several years, and then she remained the production when she started working for the college.

Deaton and her son Deaton worked in student services, but then when she had retired, she described her as hard, bright and very capable — qualities which she herself appreciated because she didn't want to be the same.

Deaton family, as members also said they loved her passion and a pleasure to work with. After the end of the program, she said she had a good working relationship with Deaton during the time years they were together in the Gonestoga college because "she did the organizing and I worked on the work."

For the final goodbye, June 21

Future grad?

Christiane Lamm, a law on his mother's graduation, June 1991. Lamm of Kitchener graduated from the Gonestoga college program June 1991.

Photo by Pat Deaton

False alarm at PCB storage shed

Old equipment the cause, security company supervisor says

By Colleen Cassidy

A fire alarm that was triggered at a storage shed which houses police on the Gonestoga campus in the early afternoon of June 28 proved to be false.

Don Callahan, head of security at Gonestoga, said there was a malfunction in the system that triggered the alarm. The alarm was triggered by the system and the fire department was called to the scene. The fire department was called to the scene.

The fire department was called to the scene. The fire department was called to the scene.

The fire department was called to the scene. The fire department was called to the scene.

The fire department was called to the scene. The fire department was called to the scene.

The fire department was called to the scene. The fire department was called to the scene.

The fire department was called to the scene. The fire department was called to the scene.

The fire department was called to the scene. The fire department was called to the scene.

remember a false alarm going off was about three years ago. He said the alarm at that time was also triggered in the storage shed.

Lynn Callahan, supervisor of security at Gonestoga, said the alarm was not triggered by the college but by old security system.

Callahan said the system works in cooperation with the police system.

Callahan said "The problem is a combination of factors on the place too."

The company manufacturing the equipment (Gonestoga) has been called for 10 years, she said.

The system is at least five years old, Callahan said. "Maybe, it's not as good as it used to be."

Callahan said "The system is at least five years old, Callahan said. "Maybe, it's not as good as it used to be."

A number of other old equipment systems are used at Gonestoga, she said.

Callahan said "The system is at least five years old, Callahan said. "Maybe, it's not as good as it used to be."

Callahan said "The system is at least five years old, Callahan said. "Maybe, it's not as good as it used to be."

Guelph campus holds annual awards ceremony

By Ellen Douglas

On June 23, Conestoga's student and apprenticeship programs held an awards ceremony to celebrate the Guelph campus' results. All award recipients.

The event started off with a live band and the award program video followed. Present award recipients could not make it to the ceremony.

Charlie Cook, the program manager, started the presentation off with a few words of encouragement to the award winners. "I hope your enthusiasm and dedication has got the full school group to have the same motivation," he said.

John Chabot, Vice of the Guelph campus where the student and apprenticeship programs are based, introduced the first group of programs to students who were all at the top of their class.

There were a total of 26 people who were awarded. They were given to: Patrick Johnson, Christopher Jones, Mark Smith, Jennifer Haines, Lyndee Haines, Robert Van Driel, Christopher Todd, Robert A.H. Smith, Kenneth Cameron, Jim Poirer, David Wilson, Chris Pratt, Susan Parnham, Cherie Halls, Catherine Smith, David Smith, William Jones, William Smith, Tim Johnson, Paul Dwyer, Don Hines, and Christopher Mark Heywood.

Among the top students were: Don, with business and other awards presented.

The student award award was presented to the winner of the award, who had helped in the award program. The award is given to the student who shows the most effort in school and who showed a student

Ray and Don, Don's brother, present the 30th anniversary scholarship to Don, Mark and David Haines at the Guelph campus June 28. The $400 scholarship was for academic achievement and an excellent attitude.

(Photo by Ellen Douglas)

improvement over the course of the program. This award was given to: Robert Dwyer, William Hines.

"These awards were presented by Robert and William Hines, 1996 and 1997.

They were winners of the award for the first semester who showed a positive attitude toward learning and academic achievement. Don Hines and Gregory

Mellick, both in the program and academic program, and for

"I hope your enthusiasm and dedication are the fuel which propel you into the next millennium."

Charlie Cook, student and apprenticeship manager

Ray and Don Haines present the 30th anniversary scholarship to Don, Mark and David Haines at the Guelph campus June 28.

Ray and Don Haines present the 30th anniversary scholarship to Don, Mark and David Haines at the Guelph campus June 28.

Ray and Don Haines present the 30th anniversary scholarship to Don, Mark and David Haines at the Guelph campus June 28.

Ray and Don Haines present the 30th anniversary scholarship to Don, Mark and David Haines at the Guelph campus June 28.

Ray and Don Haines present the 30th anniversary scholarship to Don, Mark and David Haines at the Guelph campus June 28.

Ray and Don Haines present the 30th anniversary scholarship to Don, Mark and David Haines at the Guelph campus June 28.

Don Haines, student, who showed academic progress, the Don Haines Award, Douglas and Christopher Jones, who showed academic progress, the Douglas Award, and William Hines, who showed academic progress, the William Hines Award.

Don Haines, student, who showed academic progress, the Don Haines Award, Douglas and Christopher Jones, who showed academic progress, the Douglas Award, and William Hines, who showed academic progress, the William Hines Award.

Don Haines, student, who showed academic progress, the Don Haines Award, Douglas and Christopher Jones, who showed academic progress, the Douglas Award, and William Hines, who showed academic progress, the William Hines Award.

Don Haines, student, who showed academic progress, the Don Haines Award, Douglas and Christopher Jones, who showed academic progress, the Douglas Award, and William Hines, who showed academic progress, the William Hines Award.

Don Haines, student, who showed academic progress, the Don Haines Award, Douglas and Christopher Jones, who showed academic progress, the Douglas Award, and William Hines, who showed academic progress, the William Hines Award.

Don Haines, student, who showed academic progress, the Don Haines Award, Douglas and Christopher Jones, who showed academic progress, the Douglas Award, and William Hines, who showed academic progress, the William Hines Award.

Conestoga awards recognize achievement

By Gary Johnson

Conestoga students can apply for awards given to award winners. Conestoga's student and staff awards are given to students who show academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Students can apply for awards in the following categories: academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

DSA Used Textbook Sale August 25 - 28

Do you have textbooks to sell?
You could have them sold at the DSA Used Textbook Sale

Textbook Drop off Dates
Drop off your textbooks to the DSA Office
April 28 to August 15

No books will be accepted after August 15

More information available at the DSA Office or call 748-5131

Conestoga honors award winners at June 25 convocation ceremony

By Mike Patterson

In a world of rapid change, people must be prepared to do things that are new to them — they have to, otherwise it is no life. Just as we must, so must the people of Waterloo Peninsula.

It was in the spirit of this that the people of Waterloo Peninsula were invited to the 1997 convocation ceremony.

The ceremony was held on the night of June 25 at the Conestoga College, where the people of Waterloo Peninsula were invited to the 1997 convocation ceremony.

The ceremony was held on the night of June 25 at the Conestoga College, where the people of Waterloo Peninsula were invited to the 1997 convocation ceremony.

The ceremony was held on the night of June 25 at the Conestoga College, where the people of Waterloo Peninsula were invited to the 1997 convocation ceremony.

The ceremony was held on the night of June 25 at the Conestoga College, where the people of Waterloo Peninsula were invited to the 1997 convocation ceremony.

The ceremony was held on the night of June 25 at the Conestoga College, where the people of Waterloo Peninsula were invited to the 1997 convocation ceremony.

Conestoga graduates who have passed and graduated with honors, and Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Conestoga is proud to have a graduate of the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

Doug Jackson, winner of the Master Craft Award, presented with Conestoga's graphic design and marketing program.

(Photo by Mike Patterson)

Heather McEwen (left) and Grace Stewart (right) were awarded the Master Craft Award for their graphic design and marketing program.

Heather McEwen (left) and Grace Stewart (right) were awarded the Master Craft Award for their graphic design and marketing program.

(Photo by Mike Patterson)

Heather McEwen (left) and Grace Stewart (right) were awarded the Master Craft Award for their graphic design and marketing program.

(Photo by Mike Patterson)

